TIME TO ASSESS
LEARNING
OUTCOMES
IN E-LEARNING

HTTP://TALOE.UP.PT

Learning outcomes (LOs) have been widely adopted in education with different roles. LOs were used to describe the competences of the individual after education or training. It has a benefit of improving the dialogue between individuals and potential employers.

The main goal of TALOE project is to develop a web-based platform to help stakeholders, like teachers and trainers, decide on assessment strategies to use in their online courses to verify the acquisition of LOs. The TALOE project has the goals:

- Research and select e-assessment practices related with adequate LOs;
- Develop a web-based tool that is easy to use by stakeholders;
- Test the implementation of the TALOE tool with case studies;
- Distribute and disseminate the TALOE tool among stakeholders.

TALOE consortium is composed by the following institutions:

- Universidade do Porto (UPORTO) - Portugal (coordinator)
- Gábor Dénes Főiskola (DGC) - Hungary
- Sveučilišni računski centar Sveučilišta u Zagrebu (SRCE) - Croatia
- Innovate4Future - Center for Advanced Educational Solutions (I4F) - Romania
- Università degli Studi di Padova (UniPD) - Italy
- European Distance and E-Learning Network (EDEN) - United Kingdom
- European University Continuing Education Network (EUCEN) - Belgium
