THE PROJECT
TALOE (Time to Assess Learning Outcomes in E-learning) project intends to promote the internal consistency of online courses by using the ALOA model (Aligning Learning Outcomes and Assessment).

The main goal of TALOE is to develop a web-based platform to help teachers and trainers decide on the e-assessment strategies to use in their online courses.

The specific goals of TALOE are:
• Research and select innovative
e-assessment practices that take advantage of the use of technology;
• Develop a web-based tool that is easy to use by the stakeholders;
• To test the implementation of the
tool with real case studies;
• To distribute and disseminate the TALOE
tool among the communities of stakeholders.
